WASHINGTON: 1987

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET WASHINGTON D.C. 20503

October 20, 1987

Honorable James C. Wright, Jr. Speaker of the House of Representatives Washington, D.C. 20515-6501

Dear Mr. Speaker:

In accordance with the requirements of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Reaffirmation Act of 1987, Public Law 100-119, I hereby submit to you my initial Sequester Report for fiscal year 1988. As required by law, this report is being submitted simultaneously to the President and Congress.

The budget estimates contained in this report are based on laws and regulations in effect on October 10, 1987. Because no full-year appropriations bills for fiscal year 1988 have been enacted, they are based on appropriations for fiscal year 1987, adjusted for inflation and pay costs as specified in the Act. Also, because no deficit reduction has been achieved since January 1, 1987, the report provides calculations of the amounts and percentages by which various budgetary resources must be sequestered to achieve the full $23 billion deficit reduction required by the Act.

The report is in two parts: a summary and a detailed appendix that lists sequestration reductions by agency and budget account. The summary section includes the economic assumptions, the projected budget baseline levels, a discussion of the sequestration calculations, and comparisons with the estimates provided by the Acting Director of the Congressional Budget Office in his report of October 15th.

With best wishes, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

C. Miller III

INTRODUCTION

The Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (Public Law 99-177), as revised by the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Reaffirmation Act of 1987 (Public Law 100-119), stipulates that budget deficits must be decreased annually and specifies measures that must be taken to achieve this result. The target amounts specified by the revised Act, excluding a $10 billion margin-of-error amount for 1988 through 1992, are:

Budget Targets (in billions of dollars)

Fiscal Year	Maximum Deficit		Required Reductions from January 1 Baseline
	·		Minimum	Maximum
1988	144.0 136.0 100.0 64.0 28.0		23.0 None N/A N/A N/A	23.0 36.0 N/A N/A N/A
1993	zero	•	N/A	N/A

N/A Not Applicable

If deficit-reducing measures sufficient to achieve the targets are not enacted, then a sequestration of budgetary resources must occur. The conditions under which a sequester would be triggered are:

-- For 1988 only, if the amount of net deficit reduction achieved through laws enacted and regulations promulgated between January 1, 1987 and November 20, 1987 is less than $23 billion. Because the Act sets a $23 billion deficit reduction target for 1988, the 1988 deficit target of $144 billion and the $10 billion margin-of-error amount do not affect sequestration.

- -- For 1989 only, if the estimated deficit on October 10, 1988 exceeds $146 billion (the $136 billion deficit target plus the $10 billion margin) and the amount of net deficit reduction achieved through laws enacted and regulations promulgated between January 1, 1988 and the issuance of the final report in October 1988 is less than $36 billion.
- -- For 1990 through 1992, if the estimated deficit at the beginning of each fiscal year exceeds the deficit target by more than $10 billion.
- -- For 1993 only, if there is any deficit estimated on October 15, 1992.

In general, sequestration is the permanent cancellation of new budget authority and other authority to obligate and expend funds. The amount of the sequestration is calculated to achieve outlay reductions sufficient to reach the deficit targets, except for 1988 and 1989, when the outlay reductions that can be achieved through sequestration are limited to $23 billion and $36 billion, respectively.

Under the revised Act, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) is to determine each year whether or not sequestration is necessary and the magnitude of sequestration. The Congressional Budget Office (CBO) plays an advisory role in this process. Each year, the two agencies are required to prepare independently two sets of sequestration reports. The CBO reports are transmitted to the Director of OMB and to Congress, and they provide a benchmark against which Congress and others may assess the OMB reports. The OMB reports are made to the President and to Congress, and they provide the basis for sequestration orders to be issued by the President. The timetable for the agency reports and sequestration orders is as follows:

Report or Order	For 1988	For 1989-1993
Snapshot date for initial OMB and CBO reports	• October 10	August 15
Initial CBO report	October 15	August 20
Initial OMB report	October 20	August 25
Initial sequestration order	October 20	August 25
Revised CBO report	November 16	October 10
Revised OMB report	November 20	October 15
Final sequestration order	November 20	October 15

The initial OMB and CBO sequestration reports are to be based on laws enacted and regulations promulgated as of a common "snapshot date" (e.g., October 10th for the 1988 reports). The revised reports, however, must be based on laws enacted and regulations promulgated as final by the latest possible date before they are issued. Because this second "snapshot date" may be different in the final reports of the two agencies, some legislation and regulations reflected in the OMB report may not be reflected in the CBO report, which is issued earlier.

Under the revised Act, the first step in the new sequestration process for 1988 was the initial sequestration report on October 15, 1987 by the Director of CBO to the Director of OMB and Congress, providing CBO's estimates of the baseline and sequester calculations. The second step is this report, which the Director of OMB provides to the President and Congress. It estimates the same measures as the CBO report, but as provided by the revised Act its estimates are based on the economic and technical assumptions OMB used in the joint OMB-CBO Initial Sequestration Report of August 20, 1987 (required under the original Act). Under the revised Act, explanations of significant differences between the estimates in the separate OMB and CBO reports are required (and provided) in this report. In particular, this report:

- -- Estimates budget baseline levels, including the amount by which the projected deficit exceeds the maximum deficit amount for the fiscal year covered by the report;
- -- Estimates the achieved and unachieved net deficit reduction amounts;
- -- Provides OMB economic assumptions, including the estimated rate of real economic growth;
- -- Calculates the amounts and percentages by which various budgetary resources must be sequestered in order to achieve the required deficit reduction; and
- -- Presents and explains significant differences between the estimates in this report and the estimates CBO presented in its report of October 15th.

Because this report indicates that $23 billion in reductions are required for 1988, the President is required to issue an initial sequester order withholding sufficent funds to reduce outlays by that amount. The initial order for fiscal year 1988 is being issued, and becomes effective, today -- October 20, 1987.

A final sequestration report and a final sequester order for 1988 are to be issued on November 20, 1987. The final report will take into account additional deficit reduction measures enacted after or promulgated by that date.

BUDGET BASELINE TOTALS FOR 1988

This report deals only with 1988. The OMB estimates of baseline revenues, outlays, and the deficit for 1988 are shown in Table 1. These estimates are made in accordance with the specifications set forth in the revised Act. The budget baseline estimates used in this report assume that current law for revenues and spending authority (including most entitlements) will continue unchanged, except that expiring provisions of law providing revenues and spending authority are assumed to terminate as scheduled. $\underline{1}/$

Because no full-year appropriations bills have yet been enacted for 1988, the estimates for discretionary spending accounts that require appropriations are based on the appropriations enacted for 1987, adjusted only for inflation and pay-related costs, as specified by the Act. The baseline estimates are also required to include the receipts and outlays of the off-budget social security trust funds, but social security benefits themselves are exempt from sequestration.

OMB's deficit estimate for 1988 based on laws and regulations in effect as of October 10, 1987 is $163.0 billion, which exceeds the maximum deficit amount of $144.0 billion by $19.0 billion and exceeds the $10 billion margin by $9.0 billion. Because the current baseline deficit exceeds the comparable baseline deficit based on laws and regulations in effect as of January 1, 1987, the unachieved deficit reduction remains at the full $23 billion specified in the Act. The sequestration amounts required to achieve the $23 billion outlay reduction are discussed in a separate section below.

^{1/} The Act permits an exception to the expiring-provision assumption for excise taxes dedicated to a trust fund (but not for spending authority in that trust fund), for Commodity Credit Corporation price support programs, and for contract authority for transportation trust funds.

SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCES BETWEEN AUGUST AND OCTOBER OMB BASELINES

To develop the baseline estimates for this report, the revised Act requires that certain adjustments be made to the baseline estimates developed by OMB in the joint OMB-CBO Sequestration Report for Fiscal Year 1988 published on August 20th. (See pp. 31530-31600 of the August 20, 1987 Federal Register.)

As shown in Table 2, OMB's estimate of the October baseline deficit is $26.1 billion above its August 20th baseline estimate. The difference is the result of the following assumptions and adjustments required by the revised Act:

- -- The law requires that most discretionary appropriations be adjusted upward from their 1987 enacted levels for 4.2 percent inflation in non-pay activities. Pay-related activities are adjusted for established Federal employee pay raises (2 percent, effective January 1, 1988) and other increases in personnel costs. However, the pay-raise costs are reduced by 22 percent to account for the historical level of absorption of such costs. Together, these adjustments add $11.1 billion to baseline outlays.
- -- The law requires that those appropriated entitlements identified in the revised Act and the food stamp program be fully funded and that an assumption be made that legislation will be enacted to increase benefit payments for veterans compensation for cost-of-living increases. Shifting these programs to 1988 current services levels adds $5.0 billion to baseline outlays.
- The law requires that baseline estimates for the Commodity Credit Corporation farm price support programs assume that the Secretary of Agriculture will use his discretionary authority to establish advanced deficiency payments and paid land diversion programs in each year. Together, these assumptions add $5.7 billion to baseline outlays.
- -- The law requires that the initial baseline estimates for medicare be based upon final or proposed regulations. The law also requires that the baseline exclude any changes in administrative procedures that increase or decrease the average number of days for the payment of medicare claims compared to the average for 1987. The law also enacts a temporary freeze on payment rate increases and other regulatory changes that would otherwise be in effect from October 1, 1987 through November 20, 1987. On net, these provisions increase medicare baseline outlays by $1.6 billion.
- -- The law prohibits the inclusion in the baseline of asset sales or loan prepayments unless the sales were mandated by law before September 18, 1987, or unless the sales or prepayments are considered to be routine, ongoing sales or prepayments at levels consistent with agency operations in fiscal year 1986. This provision requires the removal of the new debt restructuring/loan prepayment program from the foreign military sales credit baseline estimates, which adds $1.3 billion to baseline outlays, and removal of certain prepayments from the Export-Import Bank baseline estimates, which adds $0.2 billion to baseline outlays.

- The law requires that the expiring provisions of law providing funding for the airport-airways grant program be assumed to continue in the baseline estimates, adding $0.2 billion to baseline outlays.
- -- Debt service (interest) costs associated with the higher baseline deficit add the remaining $1.0 billion.

Two other new provisions regarding assumptions for the baseline were added in the revised Act but have no impact on the original baseline deficit estimates for 1988 as published in August. The first requires a consistent proportional relationship between increases in revenues attributable to increased appropriations for Internal Revenue Service administration and enforcement assumed in the baseline with the comparable estimates submitted in the President's budget. The second prohibits counting in the baseline, or in the estimates of net deficit reduction achieved, the effects of the transfer of Government actions from one fiscal year to an adjacent fiscal year unless specific requirements are met.

NET DEFICIT REDUCTION ACHIEVED SINCE JANUARY 1. 1987

As shown in Table 3, laws enacted and regulations issued between January 1st and October 10th of this year have, on net, increased rather than decreased the baseline deficit. The largest decrease results from the establishment of Federal pay raises of 2 percent for 1988 under the President's alternative plan (adjustments are to take effect on January 1, 1988). Because the January baseline estimates are required to assume a 4.2 percent pay raise for 1988, the lower 2 percent rate established under the President's plan puts outlays for pay and related personnel benefits $1.1 billion below the January baseline levels. Other legislation enacted during this period that reduced the deficit by at least $0.1 billion include the Surface Transportation and Relocation Act of 1987 ($0.1 billion), the Competitive Equality in Banking Act of 1987 ($0.6 billion), and the Balanced Budget Reaffirmation Act of 1987 ($0.1 billion).

The Supplemental Appropriations Act, 1987 more than offsets the deficit reductions discussed above. Directly, this legislation adds $0.9 billion to 1988 outlays through expenditure in 1988 of balances of budgetary resources added by the Act. Moreover, under the specifications for the October baseline, the $2.5 billion in budgetary resources for items other than increased personnel costs provided for 1987 are also included as new budgetary resources for 1988, increased by an adjustment for inflation. These new budgetary resources for 1988, in turn, add $1.7 billion in new spending to the October baseline for 1988. Thus, the total effect of the 1987 supplemental on 1988 baseline spending is to increase it by $2.6 billion.

New medicare regulations account for a $0.1 billion increase in the baseline deficit since January 1st. The remaining changes, including debt service on all changes, increase the baseline deficit by $0.2 billion.

ECONOMIC ASSUMPTIONS

The principal economic assumptions underlying the OMB baseline estimates for 1988 are shown in Table 4.

The Act requires the OMB Director to estimate the rate of real economic growth for the fiscal year covered by his report, for each quarter of the fiscal year, and for the last two quarters of the preceding fiscal year. If either OMB or CBO projects real economic growth to be less than zero for any two consecutive quarters, or if the Department of Commerce reports actual real growth to have been less than one percent for two consecutive quarters, Congress can suspend many of the provisions of the Act. The OMB estimates for the rate of real economic growth for fiscal year 1988 are included in Table 4, and the quarterly estimates are shown in Table 5. As required by the revised Act, these are the same assumptions used by OMB in the joint OMB-CBO report published on August 20th. Neither office projects real economic growth to be less than zero in any quarter during 1987 or 1988.

SEQUESTERABLE RESOURCES

The required reductions in outlays are not made directly; rather, they are to be achieved by the permanent cancellation — referred to under the Act as "sequestration" — of budget authority and other authority to obligate and expend funds (except that amounts sequestered in special and trust funds remain in such funds). For defense programs, sequesterable budgetary resources are defined to be new budget authority provided for 1988 and unobligated balances of budget authority provided in previous years. For nondefense programs, the sequesterable budgetary resources are new budget authority; new direct loan obligations, commitments, or limitations; new guaranteed loan commitments or limitations; obligation limitations, and spending authority as defined in Section 401(c)(2) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974. This definition of spending authority includes various mandatory and permanent appropriations, as well as Federal payments financed by offsetting collections that are credited to budget accounts.

Not all budgetary resources are subject to sequestration. The Act exempts a number of programs and activities of the Federal Government from the sequestration process. As shown in Table 6, the largest are social security benefits, net interest, certain low-income programs, most Federal retirement and disability benefits, veterans compensation and pensions, and regular State unemployment insurance benefits. Also exempt from sequestration are prior legal obligations of the Government in certain specified budget accounts, as well as the program bases for certain programs whose automatic spending increases are subject to sequester. Federal administrative expenses for most otherwise exempt programs and activities, however, are sequesterable, including programs that are self-supporting. Outlays from obligated balances for defense programs and outlays from obligated and unobligated balances of prior-year appropriations for nondefense programs are generally not subject to sequestration. In addition, the President is granted authority, which he has notified Congress he will use, to exempt all military personnel accounts from sequester. As a result, the remaining sequesterable accounts for defense are subject to a higher uniform percentage reduction than they would have been otherwise.

Certain programs and activities, while not exempt, are subject to special rules that have the effect of limiting the amount of the spending reduction. For example, the sequestration reduction for medicare, veterans medical care, and certain health programs (but not for the administrative expenses of these programs) is limited to two percent annually. In addition, the total amount of the automatic spending increases in three programs specified in the Act is sequesterable.

For credit programs, the measures governing sequesterable budgetary resources are direct loan obligations and guaranteed loan commitments. In the event of a sequester, the Act requires that credit limitations enacted in annual appropriation acts be reduced, and that $\frac{\text{de facto}}{\text{facto}}$ limitations be imposed on both types of new credit activity where there is no enacted limitation.

COMPOSITION OF BASELINE OUTLAYS

Table 6 provides further detail on the OMB baseline outlay estimates for 1988. An estimated $109.2 billion of 1988 outlays for defense programs, or 38 percent of total defense outlays, are associated with budgetary resources subject to an across-the-board percentage reduction (after exemption of military personnel accounts by Presidential authority).

An estimated $208.2 billion of outlays for nondefense programs, or 27 percent of total nondefense outlays, are associated with sequesterable budgetary resources. About $100.1 billion of these outlays, or 13 percent of total nondefense outlays, are associated with programs with automatic spending increases and certain special rule programs, the largest of which is medicare. The Act limits the extent of spending reductions for these programs.

Of the total estimated 1988 nondefense outlays of $776.6 billion, an estimated $108.1 billion -- about 14 percent of nondefense outlays -- are associated with budgetary resources subject to an across-the-board percentage reduction. 2/ An estimated $568.5 billion of nondefense outlays, or 73 percent of total nondefense outlays, are exempt from sequestration.

For defense and nondefense programs combined, an estimated $748.6 billion in outlays, or 70 percent of total outlays, are associated with budgetary resources exempt from sequestration.

^{2/} The estimated $108.1 billion nondefense total subject to across-the-board reduction shown in Table 6 does not include $7.2 billion of 1989 outlays for CCC or $2.3 billion in outlays from offsetting collections in 1988. The sum of these figures is $117.6 billion, the estimated nondefense outlays associated with across-the-board sequesterable budgetary resources shown in Table 7.

SEQUESTRATION CALCULATIONS

The revised Act establishes the following steps for the sequestration calculations for fiscal year 1988.

First, the unachieved deficit reduction to be achieved through sequester is calculated by subtracting the estimated net deficit reduction achieved amount, if any, from the $23 billion target. One-half of the unachieved deficit reduction is assigned to defense programs (budget accounts in the national defense function, 050, excluding the Federal Emergency Management Agency) and the other half to nondefense programs.

Second, all savings from eliminating automatic spending increases in three specific programs -- the National Wool Act, the special milk program, and vocational rehabilitation -- are applied to the required reduction in outlays for nondefense programs.

Third, the amount of outlay savings to be obtained by applying two of the four special rules is calculated. These special rules are for guaranteed student loans and for foster care and adoption assistance. The estimated savings from these special rules are applied toward the required spending reductions in nondefense programs. If the nondefense sequester percentage is greater than two percent, the savings from applying two additional special rules for medicare and certain other health programs are also calculated at this stage and applied toward the required spending reductions for nondefense. All four of these special rules are discussed later in this report.3/

The reductions in defense programs and remaining reductions in nondefense programs must be taken on a uniform percentage basis, computed separately for each category. The uniform reduction percentages are computed from outlay estimates. The remaining outlay savings to be achieved separately in defense and nondefense spending are divided by the estimated outlays associated with sequesterable budgetary resources in each category. The two resulting uniform reduction percentages for defense and nondefense are then applied separately to all of the remaining sequesterable budgetary resources (budget authority, credit authority, and other spending authority) in each category.

Table 7 shows the calculations for each of the steps described above. The total required outlay reduction for 1988 is $23.0 billion, one-half of which -- $11.5 billion -- must be obtained from defense programs and the other half from nondefense programs.

^{3/} A number of special rules apply to other programs, such as the Commodity Credit Corporation, but they do not enter into the sequester calculations at this step.

The outlay reductions of $11.5 billion in defense programs in 1988 must be obtained by reducing new budget authority and unobligated balances for sequesterable accounts by a uniform percentage. The 1988 outlays associated with sequesterable budgetary resources for defense programs (after Presidential exemption of military personnel accounts) are estimated to be $109.2 billion. Thus, the uniform percentage to be applied to sequesterable defense budgetary resources is 10.5 percent.

// Includes $7,163 million in estimated 1989 outlays for the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) that can be affected by a 1988 sequester (see discussion of special rule for the CCC) and $2,342 million in outlays from offsetting collections.

An estimated $20 million in nondefense savings can be obtained by eliminating the automatic spending increase for the National Wool Act program and the vocational rehabilitation program. The special milk program is also an indexed program covered under this rule, but in 1988 the change in the price index is projected to be below the threshold needed to trigger an increase. The outlay savings for programs where the spending reductions are limited by special rules (guaranteed student loans, foster care and adoption assistance, medicare, and several other health programs) are estimated to be $1.4 billion. After crediting these savings against the $11.5 billion nondefense reduction target, $10.0 billion remains to be achieved by uniform across-the-board reductions on $117.6 billion of outlays. Thus, the uniform percentage to be applied to remaining sequesterable nondefense budgetary resources is 8.5 percent.

The calculations generally assume that all nonexempt budgetary resources can be sequestered to produce outlay savings, including entitlement programs and other mandatory spending programs for which the spending authority is not controlled through the annual appropriations process. In a few instances the uniform percentage reduction of budgetary resources would not produce any outlay savings. Two examples are credit programs with new direct loan limits higher than expected program levels and intragovernmental payments to revolving funds —— such as Government payments for annuitants, Federal employee health benefits. For such cases, no outlays were included in the sequester base used for calculating the uniform reduction percentages.

AUTOMATIC SPENDING INCREASES

The three programs with automatic spending increases currently subject to sequestration by the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act are listed in Table 8. The scheduled percentage increases are shown as well as the amount of estimated outlay savings to be achieved by eliminating these increases.

SPECIAL RULES

The Act provides special rules for the sequestration of budgetary resources for certain Federal programs. This section describes these special rules and their application to the 1988 sequestration calculations. Because the nondefense sequester percentage is greater than 2.0 percent, the estimated outlay savings derived from the first four rules are shown separately in Table 7. Any outlay savings resulting from the remaining special rules are included in the amount to be obtained from the uniform percentage reductions.

Guaranteed Student Loan Program

Under sequestration, two changes are required to occur automatically in the guaranteed student loan (GSL) program. First, the statutory factor for calculating the quarterly special allowance payments to lenders will be reduced by the lesser of 0.40 percentage points or the amount by which the statutory factor exceeds 3 percent for the first four quarters after the loan is made. Under the current program, the reduction will be 0.25 percentage points. Second, a student's origination fee will increase by 0.50 percentage points. In both cases, sequestration affects only GSL loans disbursed during the applicable fiscal year, but after the order is issued. For 1988, these changes are estimated to reduce outlays by $23 million.

Foster Care and Adoption Assistance Programs

The Act limits the amount to be sequestered in the foster care and adoption assistance programs to increases in foster care maintenance payment rates or adoption assistance payment rates taking effect during the current fiscal year. Moreover, the reductions are limited to the extent that they can be made by reducing Federal matching payments by a uniform percentage across States. The increases in payment rates for these programs are made by the States and localities. Any increases planned by the States for fiscal year 1988 were included in the OMB calculations for sequestration reductions. The estimated outlay savings in 1988 from sequestration are $9 million.

Medicare

The sequestration reductions in the medicare program are to be achieved by reducing payment amounts for covered services. No changes in co-insurance or deductible obligations are to be made, and covered services are unaffected under a sequestration order. Based on the need for an $11.5 billion nondefense sequester in 1988, the maximum annualized reduction of 2 percent is required. The medicare special rules require that no reduction in payment amounts be made for services received between October 1 and November 20, during fiscal year 1988, but that the reduction in payment amounts for services rendered after November 20 be established so that the annual reduction is 2.0 percent. As a result, under the sequester order, each payment amount for services provided during November 21, 1987 and September 30, 1988 would be reduced by 2.3 percent relative to whatever level of payment would otherwise be made under medicare law and regulation. The estimated outlay savings to be achieved in 1988 by applying this special rule are $1.2 billion.

Veterans Medical Care and Other Health Programs

Even though the nondefense sequester would require a higher percentage reduction, the Act limits reductions in budget authority for the non-administrative expenditures for veterans medical care, community and migrant health centers, and Indian health services and facilities to 2 percent in 1988 and any subsequent year. The estimated outlay savings to be achieved in 1988 by applying this special rule in these programs are $185 million.

Child Support Enforcement Program

For the child support enforcement (CSE) program, the Act provides that sequestration of entitlement payments to States, including grants to States for interstate projects from the Family Support Administration's program administration account, is to be accomplished by reducing the Federal matching rates for State administrative expenses. For 1988, the Federal matching rate on most expenditures would be reduced from 68.0 percent to 60.5 percent, and the rate for computer-related expenditures would be reduced from 90.0 percent to 80.1 percent. This reflects a reduction in the matching rates to achieve the same 8.5 percent reduction applied to other nondefense programs, adjusted to allow also for the sequestration of spending on interstate grants.

If States increase their share of CSE spending to maintain total program spending at the expected 1988 level, this reduction in the Federal matching rate will lower Federal outlays by the same percentage as other nondefense programs. If States do not increase their 1988 budgeted amounts to compensate for lower matching rates, however, the lower Federal matching rate would result in a larger percentage reduction in Federal spending than the Act requires. The estimated outlay savings to be achieved in 1988 by applying this special rule are $86 million.

Unemployment Compensation Programs

The Act provides that the following items may not be sequestered: regular State unemployment benefits, the State share of extended unemployment benefits, benefits paid to former Federal employees and former members of the armed services, and loans and advances to the State and Federal unemployment accounts. The Federal share of extended benefits, unemployment insurance for railroad employees, other federally paid benefits, and State and Federal administrative expenses may be sequestered.

Both the Federal and State shares of extended unemployment benefits are paid from the unemployment trust fund — the Federal share from the Federal account and the State share from each State's account. The amount of each weekly extended benefit is set by State law. The Act permits any State to reduce the weekly extended benefit amount by a percentage equal to the percentage reduction in the Federal share. If States do not change their laws to provide for such a reduction, weekly benefit payments will not be reduced, the State share will increase by the amount of the decrease in the Federal share, and total budget outlays, which include both Federal and State benefits, will not be changed by the sequestration. The only State expected to be paying extended benefits in 1988 (Alaska) has not taken action to reduce its weekly benefit amount in the event of a sequestration.

Commodity Credit Corporation

The Act requires that payments and loan eligibility under any contract entered into by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) after a sequestration order has been issued for a fiscal year be subject to a percentage reduction. The Act requires that reductions for all farm commodities supported by the CCC be made in a uniform manner, including all noncontract programs, projects, and activities within CCC's jurisdiction. The Act further stipulates that outlay reductions in the post-sequester year that are the result of contract adjustments in the sequester year should be credited to the overall outlay reduction required in the sequester year. The amount of outlay savings to be achieved by applying this special rule is estimated to be $0.8 billion in 1988, and $0.6 billion in 1989. In accordance with the Act, however, all $1.5 billion nondefense spending reduction required for 1988.

Federal Pay

The Act provides that rates of pay for civilian employees (and rates of basic pay, basic subsistence allowances, and basic quarter allowances for members of the uniformed services), or any scheduled pay increases, may not be reduced pursuant to a sequestration order. Budgetary resources available for Federal pay, however, will be subject to sequestration as part of the reduction of administrative expenses. The total amount of Government-wide savings to be achieved in 1988 from reducing available funds for employee compensation cannot be separately estimated because program managers are urged not to resort to personnel furloughs and reductions-in-force until other methods of achieving savings, such as reducing spending for travel, printing, supplies, and other services, prove insufficient.

SEQUESTRATION REDUCTIONS

A summary of the sequestration of budgetary resources and the estimated outlay savings for 1988 is provided for national defense programs in Table 9 and for nondefense programs by function in Table 10. Table 11 provides a summary of the 1988 sequestration reductions by agency. Table 12 provides a comparison of baseline spending authority and outlays by function before and after the required reductions are applied. In most instances additional outlay savings would be gained in 1989 and later years as a result of the cancellation of 1988 budget authority. The 1989 savings have not been estimated for this report.

A detailed listing of the sequestration reductions by agency and budget account is provided as an appendix to this report.

COMPARISONS WITH CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE ESTIMATES

The revised Act requires that this report identify and explain any differences between the estimates contained in this report and corresponding amounts in the report of the Director of CBO with respect to:

- -- The aggregate amount of required outlay reductions;
- -- The aggregate amount of resources to be sequestered from defense accounts and from nondefense accounts, by type of sequesterable resource; and
- -- The amount of resources for any budget account that is to be reduced, if such difference is greater than $5 million.

The Act further requires that this report provide, by type of sequesterable resource for defense programs and for nondefense programs, the amount of reductions in budgetary resources that would be required if such estimates were made using the aggregate amount of required outlay reductions figure from this report, but with the technical assumptions and methodologies used in the report by the Director of CBO.

Because both OMB and CBO estimate the aggregate amount of required outlay reductions to be $23.0 billion, there is no difference with respect to this figure. Therefore, the detailed calculations of reductions in budgetary resources for defense and nondefense programs presented in the CBO report are the same figures that would result from a $23 billion OMB sequester calculation that used CBO technical assumptions. Table 13 reproduces these figures from CBO's report.

MEMORANDUM: Aggregrate Outlay Reductions Required -- $23.0 billion

Source: Congressional Budget Office.

As shown in Table 14, CBO and OMB differ by $16.3 billion in their estimates of the baseline deficit for 1988. All but one of the major conceptual differences discussed in the joint OMB-CBO report of August 20th have been eliminated as a result of the revised Act. The remaining difference -- proper budgetary treatment of the Federal Employees Thrift Savings Fund -- was discussed in the joint report and will be addressed by OMB in its preparation of the 1989 budget submission.

the remaining $0.4 billion.

Most of the difference between OMB and CBO baseline deficit estimates, $13.5 billion, is due to different economic assumptions. The amount of this difference remains unchanged from the August report. The remaining differences, other than debt service (interest), net to $-0.9 billion. Technical differences on baseline receipts ($2.2 billion) are offset by other technical differences in outlay estimates for medicare ($2.0 billion). Technical differences in all other programs total $-0.6 billion. Differences in debt service estimates due to the different deficit estimates account for

For most accounts CBO and OMB figures agree or are close to each other on the levels of budgetary resources and outlays subject to sequester. There are some exceptions, though minor, that result in calculated sequestration percentages for both defense and nondefense programs that differ by tenths of a percentage point.

CBO assumes slightly faster spend-out of budget authority for defense programs, resulting in a calculated defense sequestration percentage of 10.4 percent. OMB's figure is 10.5 percent. There are also differences in OMB and CBO estimates relating to nondefense program outlays. These result in a CBO sequestration percentage of 8.7 percent for nondefense programs, compared to an OMB figure of 8.5 percent.

There are three main differences in OMB's and CBO's estimates of sequesterable nondefense outlays. The first concerns the sequestration of the administrative expenses of the Postal Service. Both CBO and OMB agree that more than $1 billion of budgetary resources are sequestrable. CBO believes that there is no evidence that the Postal Service took any steps to reduce spending in response to the President's sequestration order of March 1986 (as reaffirmed by Public Moreover, the Administration appears to have no mechanism for Law 99-366). enforcing a sequestration order with regard to the Postal Service, because the statute that established the United States Postal Service removed it from budgetary control by the President. CBO assumes that, as in 1986, a 1988 sequester order would not cause the Postal Service to make any actual spending CBO therefore shows no outlay savings resulting from the reductions. sequestration of budgetary resources for the Postal Service. CBO and OMB agree that the Postal Service is covered by the Act and should be held accountable to comply with the Act to reduce its outlays, consistent with the across-the-board percentage sequestration applied to the functions and programs of the executive, legislative, and judicial branches. Despite the fact that the Postal Service's budgetary resources are not subject to the OMB apportionment process, and despite questions concerning the amount of savings actually achieved in 1986, OMB believes that the executive and legislative branches would be able to influence the Postal Service to reduce its expenditures by the same percentage applied to other government agencies, as required by law. Thus, OMB's estimates include a sequester of $98 million in outlays.

A similar situation exists with respect to budgetary resources and outlays for the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. Again, CBO and OMB agree that the Federal payment to the Corporation for Public Broadcasting is covered by the Act. Moreover, both CBO and OMB included as sequestrable $214 million in budgetary resources and outlays in the Joint OMB/CBO Sequestration Report of August 20, 1987. CBO's October 15, 1987 report, however, excluded both budgetary resources and outlays because the entire $214 million payment was made on October 1, 1987. Despite this, OMB believes that the executive and legislative branches would be able to influence the Corporation to comply with the Act by returning to the Federal Government an amount equal to the final sequestration percentage times the Federal payment. Thus, OMB's estimates include a sequester of $18.4 million in budgetary resources and outlays, where CBO assumes none for either.

Second, as a result of technical error, the OMB outlay baseline for the foreign military sales credit program was $0.8 billion too high in the August 20th report. Absent this error, the OMB and CBO figures for foreign military sales credit sequesterable outlays would only differ by $0.3 billion. Although OMB would prefer to show corrected estimates for this and other smaller spendout rate errors in this and the final sequestration reports, section 251(a)(2)(c)(iii) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act, as amended, precludes it from doing so.

Third, many other differences between the two agencies' outlay figures, most of them quite minor, result from slightly different assumptions about the rates at which budget authority for various programs will be spent out as outlays. The largest difference in this category relates to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration spendout rate for budgetary resources for a new space shuttle. The difference is due to the fact that OMB and CBO made different assumptions about how to estimate outlays for the space shuttle in their current baselines. OMB assumed outlays would occur throughout the year; CBO assumed continuation of the provision enacted last year that allowed for only one month of obligations.

Table 15 identifies differences between OMB and CBO estimates of the aggregate amount of resources to be sequestered — by type of resource for defense and nondefense programs. The largest difference by far is for estimates of guaranteed loan limitations. OMB has been informed that much of this difference will disappear when CBO revises its estimates in its November report. Most of the remaining differences in this category are due to different assumptions about the demand for guaranteed loans. Differences in the other types of sequesterable resources are largely technical estimating differences of resources for mandatory programs and classification differences that net to small differences between estimates of the sequesterable base.

Explanations of the differences for accounts where the OMB estimate differs by $5 million or more from the CBO estimate can be found in Table 16. An appendix showing the base and sequestration reductions by agency and budget account for sequesterable accounts concludes the report.
